Acids and Bases Test Review Answer Key

Salts of weak acids and bases form buffer systems. A buffer system consists of an equilibrium between an acidic species and a basic species. Note the "equilibrium", you can't just dump HCl and NaOH together and expect buffering, because neutralization will occur and the acidic species and the basic species won't be at an equilibrium.

The organic acids are weak in the sense that this ionization is very incomplete. At any one time, most of the acid will be present in the solution as un-ionized molecules. For example, in the case of dilute ethanoic acid, the solution contains about 99% of ethanoic acid molecules - at any instant, only about 1% have actually ionized.
